FRIDAY, MARCH 13, 1874.

FOURTH ROBBERY.—The robbers have a decided penchant toward the goods of Mr. McLean, the blacksmith, of the depot store at North Weymouth, as last Sunday night the fourth robbery of the premises was committed by a thief, who entered the store by cutting out a light of glass in the east window, through which the aperture was made. We are informed, that the rogue has been captured by a Boston officer, and in his posse son was found an inside key belonging to the store, which will be evidence sufficient to convict him.

The same night the tailor's shop of Mr. Denbroder, at Old Street, was entered, probably by the same rogue, but nothing of value was taken as we are informed.

FESTS.—The Universalist Society at North Weymouth have been holding a grand fair this week, with variety of entertainment. The South Weymouth Universalist Society, also hold their annual fair week after next.

ANNIVERSARY.—The anniversary of Mechanics Temple of Honor was held on Wednesday evening last, in the room of the South Weymouth Universalist Society, with many of the brethren and invited guests being present. A full report of the proceedings has been promised, for next week's Gazette.

NET PROFIT.—The net proceeds of the grand concert of Post 52, G. A., foot up $240. The receipts were nearly $400. Taking into consideration the extra expense of this entertainment, it proved to be the most successful of the course.

REHEARSALS.—The next rehearsal of the oratorio of "The Creation," by the Union Musical Society, will take place Tuesday evening, March 17th, at the Union Church vestry.

RESIGNED.—Rev. C. H. Rose has resigned the pastoral charge of the Baptist church, Weymouth, next Sunday evening, to effect April 1st. The society have not yet acted upon the resignation.

A hen owned by R. E. Correll, of Hingham, has brought forth the champion egg—weight 5 ounces, measurement 7x8x4 inches. The hen is of the Buff Cochon breed.

SUNDAY EVENING LECTURE.—The subject of the lecture at the Universal church, Weymouth, next Sunday evening, will be "Boys' Rights."

THE REVIVAL.—At Weymouth has resulted in the conversion of fourteen persons, and the interest continued, extra meetings being held in the Congregational and Methodist churches.

DECLINED.—Mr. John W. Bates, of East Weymouth, has declined the position of School Committee to which he was elected at the annual town meeting, and the Selectmen announce a meeting of the Board to fill the vacancy, the 23d inst.

Editor's Gazette.—Dear Sir.—The monthly report of the State Police for February, which we have just made up, is a very fair showing. Things will work well enough; only give us more men and time.

The new steamer now being built in New York for the Boston and Florida Steamboat Co., is finished and finished in an elegant style. The building of the boat is under the direction of the supervisor of the steamers "Ontario" and "Eric."

Roslyn, our new neighbor town, has been born and much travail and laboring the question of incorporation being the most exciting one of the session. Wednesday of last week was a field day in the Legislature, and a large number of the citizens of old Abington visited the State House to witness the proceedings. Hall of Representatives was filled with a noisy crowd, and gave his views in a practical manner against division. Mr. Hale, of Boston, followed upon the same side, making the unfortunate condition of the rest of the country clear.

Mr. House of North Bridgewater, spoke eloquently in the affirmative, and as he closed his speech the hour of four came.

The ten minutes given to the committee were faithfully occupied by the Chairman, Mr. Hayes. A yea and nay vote was ordered. The result was to make the bill pass, and the bill was passed.

The residents of Rockland celebrated over their victory Wednesday by firing salutes, a torchlight procession, and a grand ball. They add to the "illuminating" effect, the foot lights of Alonso Perry, on Vernon street, took fire about 8 o'clock in the evening, and was burned to the ground, involving a loss of $800. The fire took from a furnace. The building was a complete new two story structure, and worth about $3000. It was completely destroyed, and only about $1000 worth of the stock was saved.

RANDOLPH.—A man appeared, at the Hospital House, and friend, and asked to thoroughly advertise his calling of physician, under the cognomen of Professor Williams, but his personal property not appearing to be very valuable, suspicion was engendered in the minds of officers Warren and Hunt, at the Professors were greatly surprised. Upon inquiry, the fact was found that a Dr. DeCosta had swindled various parties moving in the highest business circles of the Hub, and it appears upon investigation that Professor Williams was identical with Dr. DeCosta, Dr. McClellan, Dr. Hunt, and others, who had been engaged in the U.S. Office to defraud Directors Hines and Drew, who proceeded to Randolph and arrested the "Professor" for obtaining goods under false pretences, and took him to Boston the same evening, Monday, March 2d.

Advertiser.

The fourth in the course of lectures given by the First Parish Religious Society, Braintree, was delivered on Tuesday evening, of last week, by Rev. E. P. Tenney, a former pastor of the church, and he was welcomed with a response by a chorus of voices singing "Auld Lang Syne." R. Elmer Morrison, Esq., introduced the speaker of the evening, who expressed his gratification at meeting so many of his old friends.

His subjects were "Old Clothes," and many exerted a treat of fun and merriment; they were disappointed, however, for the lecture was a historical review of the uses and abuses of the Romish Church that led to Protestantism and Puritanism.

He said there were many who, though they meant well, could not see the spirit of christian liberty required to be compelled to wear square caps, especially, as one had said, when his head was round and not square; and long robes, and the like. He dwelt largely upon the martyr spirit which had given religious liberty chosen of all who enjoyed it.

The lecture was a clear and comprehensive review of the history of the church, Romish, English and Puritan, and was delivered with various localities and stray gleams of humor, all of which held his audience for an hour or more without tiring.

East Norfolk Court Report.

George A. Allen, alias George Brifford, of Boston, was arrested at New Bedford, by constable F. J. French, and charged with the clothing and money from the Adams Academy boarding house, where he was employed. Although dressed in one of the student's suits, he denied the theft, but finally confessed. He was found guilty and sent to the House of Correction for six months.

John Smith was arraigned for committing an assault on Eliza Donahue, of Quincy. Found guilty and fined $3 and costs.

Swan Miller and Charles Anderson, of Quincy, charged with the larceny of a quantity of chains, powder and cartridges, property of Charles and Lewis Wilson, were indicted, but from the evidence it was thought best to hold them for trial in the sum of $700 for their appearance at the next term of Court, to be held in April, and in default they were committed.

Clarence M. Estes and Robert Rowland, of Weymouth, pled guilty to breaking a street lamp in South Weymouth, the property of Leonard B. Tirrell. For this offense they were sentenced to Dedham jail for thirty days.

FUNERAL.—The late Edmund Thomas, (says the "Advertiser") died Saturday afternoon, at his residence on Richards Street, Weymouth. Although he lay in his coffin arrayed for the tomb, he looked as if he could arise and assume his position without much exertion or a change of costume. His was the most natural corpse we ever gazed upon. Remained quiet, and, though a simple person, was evidently going to be a lawyer, he had the air of an important part he acted in the early history of her country.

She was seventeen years of age when John Adams, who lived in the adjoining town of Braintree, made her acquaintance. She was auburn, and the people of Weymouth first learned she was going to marry him, before his father, who was a woman of mark.

Abigail did not neglect books, although she was not sent to school. She read even more than her delicate health warranted. Neither was her reading light and trifling. There were few books in the house. The people who frequented the mother's home for books, and the English poets and novelists were the authors that engrossed her mind. There is no doubt that this class of books, together with the intelligent society which she always chose, gave her a wide knowledge of the world.

Useful Hints.

To RENDER FABRIC WATERPROOF AND UNINFLAMMABLE.—Nicoll uses a bath of six parts alum, two parts borax, one part tungsate of soda and one part dextrose dissolved in soap water. The goods to be dried at one hundred degrees.

To Render Leather Waterproof.—A French patent has been taken for the following compound to render boots and shoes waterproof: Carbonate of soda, twenty parts, oil of turpentine fifty parts, tar oil one hundred parts, resinous twenty-five parts, gum十六ten parts, isinglass fifteen parts, guncotton one hundred and twenty-five parts, glue twenty-five parts.

Anemone for Burns.—Sydenham recommends the application of alcohol to burns, especially for children, whose immediate relief is desirable. The alcohol should be applied for one or two hours constantly, as the pain returns when dry. In case of large burns care must be taken lest the alcoholic vapor stupify the child.

Red Cross on Cataract.—According to Hamilton, the severest cataract cold can be removed in about ten hours by a mixture of carbolic acid, 10 drops; tincture of iodine and chloroform each 7.5 drops. A few drops of the mixture should be heated over a spirit lamp, held a tenth of an inch above the eye, and applied to the nostrils as soon as volatilization is effected. The operation should be repeated in about two minutes, when the patient sneezes a number of times, the troublesome swelling rapidly disappears.

The Crook.—An old newspaper contains the following. If the remedy mentioned is, as some sovereign remedy, of importance to practice. An old subscriber called on us yesterday and informed us that, by the publication in our columns a few days of a very simple and easily-attainable remedy for the crook, we had been instrumental in saving the life of his infant son. Saturday night. The infant, who was sliced and sugar laid on the slices in layers—the syrup being administered. He wishes us to "keep it before the people" as a sovereign and almost instantaneous remedy.

Mashed Potatoes.

Take a quart or more of good potatoes, peel, and cut them in two or four pieces, which keep in cold water until the whole are ready; then wash them, put them in a pan, cover them with cold water and salt, set them on the fire to boil and cook them. When done, put the pan on the back of the range or stove, take a potato-masher, and mash well again to mix the butter thoroughly among the whole. When this is done, add about half a pint of melted butter, mashing at the same time, until the salt, salt and pepper to taste, and a pinch of nutmeg. The butter and more the potatoes are. Be prodigal of elbow grease for mashed potatoes. An improvement is to mash them with a clean damp cloth over the butter, thus preventing my lump that might occur in the masher. The quantity of butter and milk should be according to taste, and if liked, two or more yolks of eggs beaten with a little milk may be added after the butter.

Scot for Cabbage Fleas.

As soon as our readers begin to work in the gardens, we shall begin to hear complaints of the insect pest caused by cabbage root flies. In time we see that a dung of the plants with root is not only an excellent preventive of the ravages of these insects, but it is a first rate method of stimulating growth. Now, when you have occasion to clean out your chimneys, and other places, accumulate more or less, save all you can and put aside in some dry place for a time of need. Put all your fine dust-like ashes in the root, and in spring sift out all the lumps, adding an equal quantity of dry earth sand to the sand. To every part of compound sand, add a portion of powdered sulphur, thoroughly mixing it through the sulphur. Keep dry and under cover until wanted for use. This mixture will also be found excellent for dusting over melon and cucumber vines as well as upon cabbage and tomato plants.

Colding Butter.

Allen Morse, in the Vermont Farmer, relates that a neighbor recently sold three tubs of butter, for which he got $100, and to whom more than the one colored with Barkley's gilt edge. The two were colored with carrots, and he says people in his neighborhood have lost money by coloring with annatto. He thinks carot color more natural and more wholesome.

Colding Milk.

Mr. Harsey says: I find that the cooling process is fastest from the top. When milk is drawn from the udder, it should be cooled from the top. The cooling of milk as it comes from the cow is very desirable. I advise the moderate stirring of the milk.

New Houses.

The coincident of a man's moving into a new house and dying soon after has always been a subject of remark, and there is an avoidable cause—the house is moved into before the walls and plaster and the wood is sufficiently dried. Sometimes the cause of death is the poisonous character of the gas emitted from the burning of unburned wood.

No water for drinking or cooking purposes should be used in a building supplied with new lead pipes, in whole or in part, for at least one month after the water has been used daily; this gives time for a protecting coating to form on the pipes, when the chemical change from contact with water generally ceases.

But the damp materials of the house have the most decided effect, especially on persons of over fifty years old or of frail constitution; whereas, if the person were in full vigor of life and health, not even the inconveniences would be experienced.

In building a new house, or on going to live in another locality where the water supply is not far from the house, should be ascertained with the utmost care that the water is clear and not higher than the driveway or barn yards.

Inusions and fatal forms of decline and typhoid very often result from persons drinking water which is drained from the localities named.

The safest plan, and the only safe plan for new dwellings with the most healthful and unobjectionable water, is to have a water-tight cistern, and let the water from the roof of the house or barn, or other out-houses, be conveyed into it through a box of sand several yards long, this box to rest on a board, or cemented bottom and sides, so that no outside water could get into it.

The P. R.

Tom Allen admits to the St. Louis interviewer that the P. R. is unfortunate now. "I think," says Tom, "it's a mistake to put it down." It's a manly cause, and the people of the people of the country keep it up. But it's done with a manly art as it is now. No honest man has a chance; not unless he's associated with gamblers, and pimps, and thieves. That's his hobby, and it's the reason the grow in him. The bigger the boaster the better man he is with them.

Ex-President Millard Fillmore.

Ex-President Millard Fillmore, who died at Buffalo, N. Y., his home for many years, was born on the 7th of January, 1800, on what was then the outskirts of civilization, in Cayuga county, N. Y. His father was at that time a pioneer settler in the township of Locke, (now Sherburne), and his mother, a widow, found a home among her neighbors in that wilderness young Fillmore grew up with no education except a moderate knowledge of reading, writing, and arithmetic, acquired at home. At the age of fourteen he became an apprentice to a fuller, and the next five years to a tanner, and then to a draper, wool-dealing cloth, and working on his father's farm. At the age of nineteen he made an arrangement with his employer to give up his trade, having determined to take up the study of law. At that time the profession was not well represented in New York, before one who had not a classical education could be admitted as an attorney; but nothing daunted by this prospect, the young man entered into an agreement with Mr. Wood, a retired lawyer, to "attend" to that gentleman's "practice" for his fees, and the use of a scanty library, and set to work to make what he might out of "Blackstone" and "Tidwell's Practice." After one year of this kind of exercise, relieved in the winter by teaching school, he set out for Buffalo, where he obtained a position as a clerk in a lawyer's office in the early morning, taught school during the day, and in the evening pursued the subject of the morning's study with a fellow-student. During a portion of the time, he was engaged in the manufacture of iodine and chloroform each 7.5 drops. A few drops of the mixture should be heated over a spirit lamp, and a tenth of an inch above the nostrils as soon as volatilization is effected. The operation should be repeated in about two minutes, when the patient sneezes a number of times, the troublesome swelling rapidly disappears.

FIRE.—The residents of the Square at Weymouth Landing may well consider a serious conflagration on Monday night last, when the livery stable of A. S. White, East, was found to be on fire, in the hay loft. Fortunately, the hay stored in the loft was in baled form, thus preventing the flames from spreading to the building. The master of the stable had the hay been all stored. The alarm was given to the firemen, and the hostler, who was engaged in harnessing a horse in the yard being startled by the sudden outburst of flame from the loft, and in a short time the engines—Union, of Braintree, and Amazon, of Weymouth, were playing upon the fire with good effect. Steam was got up at the planing mill of Mr. Henry Gardner, and a line of hose stretched across the meadow from the mill to the fire, the powerful stream aiding the efforts of the firemen to extinguish the flames. The damage was rendered by this use of auxiliary to our means of protection against fire, should incite the District to procure additional hose, to be placed in the mill, as it would then protect the whole line of buildings within the circle from the Depot through Cornhill street, and around the Union Church.

The fire by the way was not very large, and the horses and carriages were removed without injury.

G. A. R. FUNERAL.—The Comrades of Post #58, G. A. R., who were called upon a week ago Sunday, to bury a deceased comrade, again paraded last Saturday, at East Weymouth, on the occasion of the funeral of MARTIN DWIGHT BURRELL, a member of the Post, who died on Friday, after a short illness. Buried at the cemetery on Sunday, thirteenth inst., apparently in usual health, but was attacked next day with erysipelas, which finally assumed the form of a malignant pestilence, and closed his earthly life early Friday morning, at the early age of 28 years. The deceased followed in long procession, filling the pews in the center aisle of the church, the remainder of the body seats being filled by a large assemblage of sympathizing friends. The choice introduced the solemn services, and the appropriate music. Bells pealed the dead who die in the Lord," followed with the reading of Scripture, by Rev. Mr. Elapster of the church of which the deceased was a member, to whose worth as a member of the society and as a citizen, he paid a fitting tribute, the gathering to him the pastor, and follow him in the divine life. Rev. Mr. McElroy also paid a fitting tribute to the departed, and after prayer by the pastor, and the company present had taken their last look of the peaceful sleeper, the procession was formed and escort the Post and moved to the Cemetery, where the usual military honors of the G. A. R. were accorded their dead Comrade.

VARIETY.—The residents of Weymouth will be furnished with abundant entertainment during the month of April, the "season" opening with the presentation of the oratorio of "The Creation," by the Union Musical Society on Wednesday evening, April 1st, the performance being the complimentary benefit of Mr. C. H. Webb, Conductor, and the society and its friends engaged are two solo singers from Boston, an orchestra of 21 musicians, and piano accompaniment by Mrs. C. G. Thompson, the whole forming a combination of talent which should ensure a full house. On a second evening, April 8th, the young band occurs (first concert) and the friends of this popular organization will, it is hoped, not fail to give the band a generous reminder of their interest in the welfare of the corps by thronging the Town Hall that evening. James Alford, Master of the church, before the Cathedral, T. A. & L. A. in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, at East Weymouth, on Wednesday evening, April 1. The Young People of the Union Society of Weymouth and Braintree give a public entertainment in Town Hall, evening, March 31, in the lecture room of the church, and during the same afternoon, that occasion for whose benefit have arranged an excellent programme of vocal and instrumental music, tableaux, charades, pantomimes. Wednesday evening, April 8, the North Weymouth High School give a tea party, and a series of entertainments to be conducted by the Senior Class. Friday evening, April 10, Amazon Engine Company, of Weymouth, give a grand ball at the Town Hall, with music by the Metropolitan Band, of Boston. So great a variety of entertainment is seldom crowded into so short space of two weeks, and all classes can find their choice in this alla partita song and dance and intellectual relaxation.

REHEARSAL.—The rehearsal of the "Creation," by the Union Musical Society of Weymouth and Braintree, takes place to-morrow (Saturday) evening, at the usual place.

CONVERSATION.—The religious interest still continues at North Weymouth, and five more conversions, last week, are announced at the Pilgrim Church.

PRESIDENT.—Rev. Mr. McLiverty, of East Weymouth, was very surprised, on Thursday evening, the 12th inst., by the gift of a handsome gold Watch, with the young people of the Society, who paid him an unexpected visit, even as far as Boston, to address by Mr. Henry Bowen, president of the testimonial of their regard for the pastor.

A CANARY.—The subscriber takes this moment to extend his hearty thanks to the friends of Weymouth Landing, of East Braintree, and also to Mr. Henry Gardner, proprietor of the Steam Mill, for the promptness and energy which was displayed in getting them in controlling the fire at my Stable, on Monday night; also to the citizens generally for the very valuable services rendered on that occasion.

E. S. WHITE,
Weymouth, March 27, 1874.

DECEASED.—Miss Nancy Rice, daughter of Capt. Wm. Rice, whose death occurred at East Weymouth last week, was widely known throughout the community of that village through her unceasing activity in works of benevolence and her zeal in her Master's cause. The sick and the dying found her a ready and willing helper on every side, and ever, like the Master she "was ever doing good." At her funeral was assembled a large concourse of attendants gathered in the village on any occasion, all realizing that a "friend in need and a friend indeed" had gone to her reward on high.

Rest in peace, good soul.
The battle fought, the victory won.
Enter thy Master's joy.

MILK ROUTE.—John Curtis, a popular resident of South Weymouth, has been serving Mr. William Sherman, of East Weymouth, for his milk route in Weymouth, and customers will be promptly and faithfully served by him.

N. M.

NEW ENTERPRISE.—We learn that Mr. Joseph Sherman, of East Weymouth, has made arrangements with the Old Colony Railroad for the construction of a new track and switch, extending from the Mountain in that place to the "Flat Mountain," or marsh, at the junction of East and West streets, which has been purchased by Mr. Sherman for the establishment of a coal depot. The Railroad Company will construct a wall on the track side of the lot, where a line of coal cars will be directed, the coal will be taken from the cars into the sheds, thus obviating the necessity of extra hauling. A building will be erected on the lot for office purposes and for the storage of grain, hay, lime, &c., and the surface of the lot will be planked. The coal will be taken from the railroad, via the Taunton River, where, as it is stated, it can be landed at less expense for freight than when it is brought round the Cape.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.—At the meeting of the Selectmen of Weymouth, held on Monday last, to fill a vacancy in the Board of School Committee, Hon. John W. Loud was elected, and has accepted his position.

FROZEN.—During the cold term a week or two ago, a German named Henry Benner, residing at North Weymouth, was found to be on fire, in his feed bay, and has been taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital for treatment. It was thought that amputation would be necessary to our means of protection against fire, should incite the District to procure additional hose, to be placed in the mill, as it would then protect the whole line of buildings within the circle from the Depot through Cornhill street, and around the Union Church.

The fire by the way was not very large, and the horses and carriages were removed without injury.

OFF TO ALASKA.—Capt. McIntyre and Mrs. (Mrs. M. B.) Baker, who were called upon a week ago Sunday, to bury a deceased comrade, again paraded last Saturday, at East Weymouth, on the occasion of the funeral of MARTIN DWIGHT BURRELL, a member of the Post, who died on Friday, after a short illness. Buried at the cemetery on Sunday, thirteenth inst., apparently in usual health, but was attacked next day with erysipelas, which finally assumed the form of a malignant pestilence, and closed his earthly life early Friday morning, at the early age of 28 years.

The group of Islands called the Pristine, or Seal Islands, lie off the coast of Behring's Sea, between Alaska and Kamtschatka, and are the port of the famous seal. About the first of May these animals—which for the previous eight months, have been scattered throughout the vast Pacific ocean, now know where—commence to arrive at these two islands.

RECOLLECTIONS OF LAFAYETTE.—It was in 1834 I first saw General Lafayette. He visited this country by invitation of the President, and made the tour of nearly half the country, from Boston to New York, and I think, in the Autumn of that year. The night previous to his entering the City, he was the guest of his old friend and companion in arms, His Excellency William T. Eustis, then Governor of Massachusetts, and his wife, who resided in Boston. Common wealth, who resided in Boston, and from whom the famous nation of Madison Swain. The house of Gov. Eustis stood back from the main road entering the City, with a beautiful lawn in front.

I can well remember the day he entered the City. It was a proud day for Boston, and the Country around was very active.

The seafarers exclusively upon fish, and when they arrive at the islands are very fat. During their stay of from three to four months they take no food at all, subsisting by the absorption of the surplus flesh they bring with them. The full grown male seal will weigh from 800 to 1,000 pounds, and the female from 600 to 800 pounds, and the young ones are not larger than five or six pounds. While they are here for the purpose of bringing forth their young they sit or lay idly upon the beach, never going into the water, and they are perfectly tame. Having engaged a passage to the city, in the open boat, upon their return home soon after sunrise in the morning, I was so fortunate, as to get a standing place by elbowing myself through the crowd to a spot very near where the General carriage halted. Hon. Josiah Quincy, then Mayor of the City, rode out to meet the General, and I sat in the carriage, steering close by that of Gen. Lafayette. He then stood up and waving gracefully his new heavier hat in his right hand, made an eloquent address of welcome to the General in behalf of the State of Massachusetts. The General stood in his open carriage, listening with great interest, and was dragged a short distance, but was obliged to loose his hold in order to escape serious injury; a few brusles upon his face testifies to his escape from a serious accident.

East Norfolk Court Report.—Patrick Fee, of Hingham, for being drunk, found guilty and fined $3 and costs.

Patrick Sullivan, of Quincy, drunken, fined $3 and costs.

John Fallon and Thomas Coomer of the Super-Phosphate works, Weymouth, charged by R. N. Cushing for being drunk, found guilty and for non-payment of fine and costs were carried to the House of Correction.

Michael Crowley, of Randolph, common drunkard, paid guilty and sentenced to 3 months at the House of Correction.

William Crowley, and Daniel Doyle, of Randolph, for being drunk, were found guilty and fined each $3 and costs.

James Rooney, of Weymouth, charged by R. N. Cushing for being drunk, found guilty and ordered to pay the costs and to furnish sureties in the sum of $300 to keep the peace for 6 months.

Corinches Lewis, of North Quincy, for assault on Mrs. Ann O'Brien, found guilty and ordered to pay the costs and to furnish sureties in the sum of $300 to keep the peace for 6 months.

Garrett Supple, of Scituate, and James and Anna Rooney, of Weymouth, were charged for the sale of salsify and turnips, the property of A. Herbert Tower, Jr., of Grobbet's of the Valley with great earnestness, and at its conclusion he replied in broken English, thanking the citizens for the kind manner they had received him, expressing great joy that he was permitted once more to go to his native land. Boston after a lapse of nearly half a century, and in holding such wonderful improvements as met his eye on every side.

The speech of welcome and reply over, both of which occupied about fifteen minutes, Mayor Quincy stepped into the carriage, the General, heartily shook him by the hand, and seated by his side, and the line of processions, which had been formed, went on to the State House, and the roar of Cannon from Dorchester Heights and the Common, the ringing of peals on the bells of the City and the shouts of the people who thronged the streets all along the way. Not the men of Boston had there been such a brilliant display of the civic and military, and never the young have to be taught the art of swimming with as much labor and pains as would require to teach a child.

North Weymouth.

NORTH WEYMOUTH PILGRIM SOCIETY.—The North Weymouth Pilgrim Society held their annual meeting on the evening of last week. The meeting was organized by the choice of Dea. James Turner as Moderator. The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: For Standing Committee, and Assessors, Henry Newton, Esq., and Edward Blanchard, Jr., of Grobbet's of the Valley. For Auditor, Lemuel Turner, Esq.; for Tithingmen and Ushers, Maj. F. A. Nicklin, G. L. Newton. The next article was to hear the reports of the Committees. The Treasurer's report showed the expense of the society the past year to be about $1,000. The amount of loans for Standing Committee, and Assessors, and for the Auditor, was $1,000. The society will be conducted by the Senior Class. Friday evening, April 10, Amazon Engine Company, of Weymouth, give a grand ball at the Town Hall, with music by the Metropolitan Band, of Boston. So great a variety of entertainment is seldom crowded into so short space of two weeks, and all classes can find their choice in this alla partita song and dance and intellectual relaxation.
